

deperlu

Deperlu reinterprets the shirt with an essential approach.
Soft in volume, informal in attitude, sophisticated in detail.
Fabric research, craftsmanship and distinctive treatments define each piece.

A natural elegance, made to be worn every day.

THE APPROACH

FROM MATERIAL TO GARMENT

Deperlu starts from images, materials and intuition.

Each garment is the result of touch, time and instinct - where research and handwork meet everyday life.

THE FOUNDER

After an early experience in London in the 1980s as a shop assistant and later store manager, he joined a production consultancy company, working with some of the most renowned international brands.

As General Account Manager, he oversaw production and development, eventually becoming partner and, in 2004, sole owner of the company.

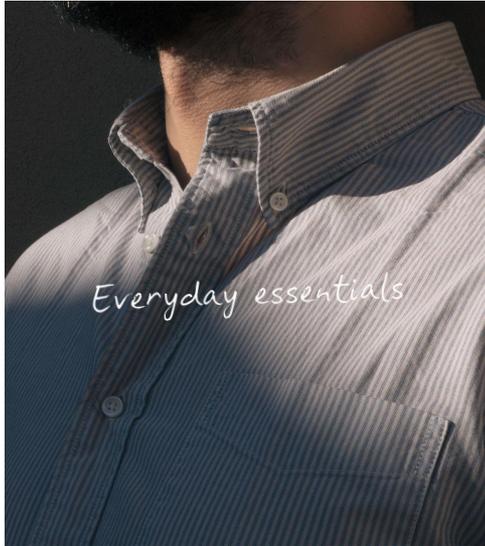

In 2008, he launched his first brand, driven by a personal vision rather than market trends. Deperlu follows the same approach: garments guided by taste, experience and instinct, designed to last beyond seasons.
