

Pantherella

JULY 2025

Our Pantherella socks are designed in England and curated with the same mark of bespoke luxury since 1937. The depth of heritage and textile expertise are the foundation of each and every Pantherella sock.

At Pantherella, we specialise in creating exceptional socks from the world's finest fibres, with each pair carefully finished to ensure unrivalled quality. Our reputation has been firmly established upon impeccable quality, exceptional service and refined design.

Pantherella socks are made in Italy, renowned globally for luxury fashion and innovation, with expert quality inspection and the same high-quality yarns that we have used since 1937.

SINCE 1937

GENEROUS ELASTIC TOP

Our deeper than average elastic top assists with grip to make sure your socks stay firmly in place, but also don't pinch, rub or cause irritation, minimising unsightly red marks.

THE WORLD'S BEST YARNS

From luxurious cashmere, super soft genuine West Indian Sea Island Cotton and sheer spun silk, to exquisite Merino Wool - we source the best quality yarns from around the world.

EXCEPTIONAL QUALITY

Our QC team ensure that all of our socks exceed internationally recognised minimum requirements for colour fastness, shrinkage, pilling and abrasion.

FINE LINKED TOE SEAMS

This intricate process involves linking the stitches of the two sides of the toe seam together with one thread creating a virtually undetectable flat seam.

INCREASED KNITTING TENSION

Our stitch density is higher than an average sock, as this improves fit by allowing the sock to 'hug' the leg and foot without the need to add elastane.

EXTENDED REINFORCED HEEL

Our sock heel extends above the usual wear area and is reinforced with colour-matched nylon to add durability to this area of heavy wear and tear.

REINFORCED TOE

We use carefully colour-matched nylon to reinforce the toe area of our socks. This increases durability, resists abrasion and also discourages bacteria, contributing to good foot health.

SMOOTH SOLE

Our smooth, flat knit sole ensures every day comfort as well as contributing to a uniform fit throughout the foot area, essential for minimising 'bunching' and irritation.

OUR YARNS

Provenance is important in everything that we do, which includes the yarns that we source from around the world. From Cashmere to Sea Island Cotton, each yarn selected for a Pantherella sock has been meticulously sourced from the most respected yarn suppliers in the world.

EGYPTIAN FIL D'ECOSSE

Our Egyptian Fil D'Ecosse yarn is grown exclusively in the Nile Delta region. Its long staple fibres possess exceptional properties that produce a supremely fine, comfortable and resilient yarn, with enhanced longevity and shrink resistance. The story of Fil D' Ecosse dates back to the 19th century, and an Italian textile manufacturer who travelled to England in search of fine yarns. Some years before, textile fibre scholar John Mercer had invented the process we now call 'mercerisation' where the surface fibres of the yarn are removed to reveal a luxuriously smooth finish. An added benefit of this process was the increase in yarn strength and vibrancy of colour after dyeing.

EGYPTIAN COTTON

Pantherella use the finest Italian sourced, extra-long staple Egyptian grown cotton. The extra-long staple determines the highest quality of cotton, as it uses uniform lengths of fibres.

ORGANIC COTTON

Our organic cotton yarn carries the GOTS (Global Organic Textile Standard) certification, the world's leading processing standard for textiles made from organic fibres. Organic cotton requires 71% less water than its non-organic counterpart and uses 62% less energy as it doesn't require any fertilisers. Pantherella organic cotton has been grown to organic principles that maintain soil health without the use of toxic pesticides and synthetic fertilisers, caring for our planet.

CASHMERE

The ultimate in luxury hosiery, cashmere socks are exquisitely soft and approximately three times warmer than socks made from sheep's wool.

In Spring, as Cashmere goats moult for summer, they are combed by hand to remove their ultra-fine undercoat. These combings are then washed and sorted - What is left is pure cashmere. This laborious process results in a fibre that is exceptionally exquisite and rare. We source our cashmere from the finest Scottish mills and our leisure weight yarn is woollen spun using the finest grade of cashmere knitted with nylon to give our socks extra durability and stretch.

MERINO WOOL

The coat of the Merino breed of sheep is synonymous with the production of fine, soft wool. Standard Merino wool has a fibre diameter around 25 microns. Here at Pantherella we use a 19.5 micron yarn which is classed as 'superfine' and is exclusively spun with 10% nylon which gives it extra durability for everyday wear. All the Merino wool used by Pantherella is worsted spun which ensures strength, and the long fibres help to give our socks their characteristic soft surface and handle.

SILK

To knit Pantherella silk socks we use Swiss 'Tram' silk which is a yarn formed by twisting strands together to produce a thread with a shimmering appearance, excellent wearability and good moisture absorption. Even in warm conditions, our ultra-sheer silk socks remain cool and comfortable to wear, making them an exquisite evening dress sock.

SEA ISLAND COTTON

Genuine West Indian Sea Island cotton is cultivated only in the perfect conditions of the British West Indies and rigorously certified by the WISICA (West Indian Sea Island Cotton Association). As strong as silk, as durable as wool and as soft as cashmere, they are an unsurpassed summer sock.
